Ramsell Public Health Rx Data Management and Reporting System

Ramsell340B offers a flexible and intuitive reporting engine to help streamline the 340B program management process. This highly configurable engine enables access to program data 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year, empowering the program administrator vital information to make smart business decisions. Benefits for the reporting system include:

Variable Output Formats - Reports can be generated in various output file types as determined by the user to include Excel, Word, Text or PDF files. Data can also be converted to graphs, charts and other data base formats for custom formatting and manipulation.

Comprehensive Access - With access to historical and current data, PMDC Systems™ enables users to utilize report data for identifying trends and forecasting. The featured ad hoc query tool enables users to configure reports on an as needed basis.

Efficient Technology - The user interface is based on industry standard web browser technology and is user friendly, which minimizes user training. Ease-of-use is facilitated by the use of such features as:

- Organization of windows containing related information into groups of tabs.
- Pull down menus that allow the user to easily navigate information and to carry out common administrative functions.
- A toolbar that allows the user to execute frequent commands by clicking on a button.
